Peace, Love & Emma – The Causes

---

The Art Bus

We plan to take art on the road to places where it can make a difference – where schools have cut it from the curriculum, where creativity is needed or where kids need inspiration. Staffed by volunteer Art teachers and their students, we plan to organize ‘pop-up’ art events to help the young find their inner artist. While they may never paint a Picasso, we believe every child will grow by embracing the many benefits that Art provides and help stimulate all parts of their young brains. It’s clear to us, that we whether it’s the visual or performing arts – we need to bring embrace Art For Life!

Henry's List

Think of the feeling you get when you take a tag from the Angel Tree during the holidays, knowing that your kindness will help brighten the holiday for someone in need. Now imagine having that feeling all year round. Henry is a man that was thrown a few curves by life, and is working to rebuild his life. When our friend Tim befriended Henry – it took only a simple comment to help spark this program. “My apartment isn’t air conditioned and gets hot at night.” By sharing a fan that he had but wasn’t using, Tim helped inspire Henry’s List – a way to have those with means help those in need.

Emma's Project Earth

Emma left a scrap of paper titled ‘Project Earth’ – that listed a few simple things: Recycling committees, Tree planting, roadway clean-up. Inspired by this, we want to engage youth to suggest their own ‘Project’ to help their Mother Earth. For our first project, our friends/family planted 21 Trees around the world to honor what would have been Emma’s 21st birthday. We want to inspire high-school and college-aged kids (no age restriction, but we’ll start with this group) to clean up litter, plant trees, organize recycling drives – really anything that helps improve the environment. We’ll show them how to get start, support their efforts and provide resources/funding as needed.

Emma Munson Foundation

To “promote charitable activity to improve the quality of life” is the mission of the Emma Munson Foundation, we hope to accomplish this by sparking a volunteer youth movement called Emma’s Peace Gang, a portion of the money raised will remain with the foundation to help accomplish these goals.
